Grenache

BIODYNAMIC® WINE

The release of this joyously gulpable (which is what “Glou Glou” means) nouveau-styled grenache is always a cause for celebration. Ideal for summer picnics or pizza night, this charming, fruity wine should be served with a light chill. Our Glou Glou Grenache is not meant for your wine cellar, but to be poured into a glass tonight.

Nate Wall's Winemaker Notes

The 2022 Glou-Glou Grenache began with 100% whole cluster grenache placed in a stainless steel tank. This was sealed up for two weeks of carbonic maceration, after which time the tank was opened up and the grenache was foot-treaded to initiate spontaneous alcoholic fermentation. The wine then fermented on its skins for another week and was then pressed back to another stainless steel tank. It fermented for another week or two in tank-sans-skins before going completely dry.

After resting on its lees for several months, the wine was racked to a clean tank and a small amount of SO<sub>2</sub> was added. Because we keep the wine sealed up tight in a variable capacity stainless steel tank, we are able to prevent some of the CO<sub>2</sub> from fermentation from degassing. Thus we can bottle this wine with just the slightest spritz of bubbles, unfinned and unfiltered.

On the label: Valerian by Oregon artist Janet Ekholm. We plant significant quantities of valerian on our farm, with which we make Biodynamic Preparation 507. Applied to our compost piles, it blankets the piles with warmth and then supports phosphorus processes in our soils.
